

Tulalip Charitable Contributions Funds Distribution Report

NAME OF AGENCY: Center for Environmental Law & Policy ( CELP )

ADDRESS: 911 Western Avenue #305, Seattle, Washington 98104

CONTACT: (206) 829-8366; celp.org

GENERAL GOALS: The Center for Environmental Law & Policy's mission is to protect Washington State's rivers and aquifers by advocating for science-based, sustainable water management in the legislature and courts, and with government agencies.

SPECIFIC USE FOR THIS AWARD:

CELP uses its funding to work statewide to protect and restore Washington's rivers and aquifers for both current and future residents of Washington. This advocacy is all the more important in the face of climate change--as the impacts of climate change squeeze Washington's already threatened rivers and aquifers

July 9th Celebrate Water event that the Tulalip Charitable Fund helped sponsor.

A key focus of CELP's work in the upcoming year, which the generous donation of the Tulalip Charitable Fund will greatly assist, is to jointly advocate with Columbia River Tribes and key environmental groups to ensure that the Columbia River Treaty is revised and amended to make restoring that river's ecosystem a co-equal goal with power production and flood control.
