Re: Q1 2018 14.2

I can think of no more stirring symbol of man's humanity to man than a fire truck.
Kurt Vonnegut

First-In Training and Education (F.I.T.E.) is a non-profit that contracts with local high schools and skills centers to help high school juniors and seniors explore a career in the fire service. We try to tap into that voice in the back of their heads that at one point in their young lives said "I want to be a firefighter when I grow up!"

By providing academic and physical training opportunities on par with a professional fire department, the students gain an understanding of the tradition and trust of firefighting. They are able to make an educated decision about how to move forward with the goal of being hired as a full-time firefighter.

Your generous gift went towards the partial purchase of our second working fire engine to serve over 250 high school students whose dream is to serve their communities in the field of Fire and EMS.

Thank you very much for the donation. We would love to bring some students and the fire engine out to an appropriate event that the Tribe hosts to show students what is available in their area when it comes to Fire and EMS education.
