Due to the generosity of Tulalip Cares, the ICOLPH School music program has been greatly impacted by the purchase of eight new xylophones. I use these instruments in the PreK through eighth grade general music and choir programs. So far, this gift has helped 144 general music students and 36 middle school choir students learn and grow in their creativity. These instruments make it possible to teach and put into practice skills such as dynamics, tempo, expression, ostinato, playing in parts, and singing accompaniment. Our older classroom non-pitched instruments were not supportive of this kind of instruction. These instruments enrich our curriculum and promote lifelong curiosity and love of music. Thank you Tulalip Cares for the gift of music in our school!

With gratitude,

Miss Hittmeier, Music Teacher
