Tulalip Cares Fund Report Q3 2024 14.2

8/1/25

To Marilyn Sheldon,

Below is our charitable contribution report for our grant referencing Q3 2024 14.2.

With this generous donation, we were able to impact 46 clients / students with disabilities in Western Washington. We strive to create a community that empowers individuals with disabilities through a comprehensive day program that fosters community integration, enhances social skills, promotes continued education, builds meaningful relationships, and develops essential life skills in a supportive and inclusive environment. We create acceptance, compassion, purpose and a sense of community for children and adults with disabilities.

With this grant for operating expenses, we used it for the following,

Month	Dec		Jan		Feb		Total
Date Range	1-15	16-31	1-15	16-31	1-15	16-28
Head Teacher Salary	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████
Assistant Wage	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████
Supplies	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████
Insurance (Car. Health and Liability)	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████
Gas	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████
Total	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████	██████

Northwest's Child utilized the ████████ Tulalip Tribe grant for essential general operating expenses, ensuring the continuation of our inclusive programs. Funds supported our Head Teacher's salary and Assistant wages, purchased necessary classroom supplies, covered a portion of insurance costs, and provided gas for our program vans. Those vans are more than just transportation; they are the bridge between our sites and the world beyond. This is critical for transporting our students into the community, where they participate in enriching activities such as visiting local museums, volunteering with partner nonprofits, enjoying nature outings at area parks, exploring our local libraries, and attending community events. These experiences foster social connections, build life skills, and create a sense of belonging for every student we serve.

Thank you again for your continued support,

Lindsey Holley, Development Director
