RE: Grant Report Q4 2015 14.2 / PROVAIL URL www.provail.org

Dear Marilyn,

Thank you again for the [REDACTED] grant award from the Tulalip Tribes Charitable Contributions. I'm delighted to send you this final report on the impact that the contribution from Tulalip Tribes has had on PROVAIL's Therapy and Assistive Technology Clinic.

Over the past year, funds from the Tulalip Tribes Charitable Contributions supported our Therapy Clinic program to work with a total of 48 children with developmental disabilities. Therapists in our clinic were able to outfit these children with customized technology to meet their individual mobility and communication needs, and provide their teachers, families, and caregivers with training to support optimal independence for each child – at school, at home, and in the community.

In addition to providing these important services to our clients, we're thrilled to share that PROVAIL recently completed a renovation of our Therapy and Assistive Technology Clinic space. In its new location, the clinic now has almost double the space to serve clients onsite at PROVAIL's headquarters facility. The bigger clinic room is outfitted with more equipment built to accommodate the growing number of children being served by our program and includes both a kitchen and bathroom, two enormously helpful areas to have access to when working on self-help skills during occupational therapy sessions.

We're so grateful to count the Tulalip Tribes Charitable Contributions as one of PROVAIL's valued friends and supporters. Thank you for helping us ensure that even more children with disabilities can receive the services they need to thrive in every area of their lives.

With gratitude,

Amy Logan
