Here is a report on our activities for last year.

Grant Details

Amount of Grant: [REDACTED]
Date Awarded: March 15, 2017
Project Funded: Book Up Summer

Fund Expenditures

Funding from the Tulalip Tribes provided 71 students from Liberty and Quil Ceda Elementary schools with 852 new books, creating home libraries for summer reading and beyond!

Objectives Accomplished

Thanks to your support, Page Ahead was able to expand our Book Up Summer program to 13,578 students at 76 schools in 21 districts across Washington State during the summer of 2017. In total, Book Up Summer gave 162,936 new books to students from low-income families, allowing them to begin building home libraries to enjoy during the summer months when access to books is crucial.

Book up Summer Evaluation

Data from participating schools' standardized tests shows Book Up Summer reduced the reading achievement gap points by:

- 77% between first and second grade
- 70% between kindergarten and first grade

During the 2016-2017 program year Page Ahead:

- Provided 21,923 children with 190,662 new books through our Book Up Summer, Books for Kids and Story Leaders programs.
- Delivered services through 176 partner sites.
- Presented 19 Families Read workshops to 240 families.
- Trained volunteers gave 1,640 hours, providing 730 Story Times to 1,286 children.

Thank You

"Thank you all for giving us books.
I really think that the kids love the books.
Thank you for caring and giving us
a better chance to have better books."
– Jordan, age 6
