Surveillance System

The new Surveillance Cameras at the Homeless Shelter both prevent crimes from happening, help quickly solve criminal cases with material evidence, and provide clients with a sense of security. Video surveillance protects employees indirectly by monitoring each visitor who comes into the building and keeps a video record of their activity. A video surveillance system monitors productivity without the added expense of hiring additional personnel.

New Furniture

The newly renovated Homeless Shelter got new furniture that included new tables, chairs, two sets of washers and dryers, fridge, and microwave oven. The Shelter also got updated flooring, blinds, and countertops in the main cabin. Each of the 6 individual cabins got renovated with new flooring, new paint, patching of walls, and updated water heaters as well as new furniture, including a couch, loveseat, table with four chairs, bed frame, mattress, and box springs for queen and/or full size. New furniture provides a safe, dignified environment for our clients. Furniture plays an important role in the Homeless Shelter, giving it a safe and relaxing atmosphere and a comfortable feeling to all employees and, most importantly, to the clients in both the main cabin and their individual cabins. Before the renovation, the Homeless Shelter appliances/ furniture were outdated and broken.

Travel / Training

The two trainings listed below are the two trainings we took as a group. These trainings were relevant since being Trauma Informed is the path which the Tulalip Homeless Shelter is taking.

Trauma Informed Care:

Trauma Informed care involves awareness of trauma types and understanding of trauma's effects on behavior. Trauma-informed care is defined as practices that promote a culture of safety, empowerment, and healing. Childhood stress as a significant risk factor for a long list of cognitive, behavioral, psychological, and medical disorders. Trauma informed care involves prevention, recognition, and response to trauma-related difficulties.

Motivational Interviewing:

Motivational Interviewing is a directive, client-centered counseling style for eliciting behavior change by helping clients to explore and resolve ambivalence. It is a counseling method that helps people resolve ambivalent feelings and insecurities to find the internal motivation they need to change their behavior

Five Principles of Motivational Interviewing

- Express empathy through reflective listening
- Develop discrepancy between clients' goals or values and their current behavior
- Avoid argument and direct confrontation
- Adjust to client resistance rather than opposing it directly
- Support self-efficacy and optimism

Computers

The new computers have helped improve the performance, stability, and security of our software to ensure it continues to run safely and efficiently. Having new computers ensures that everything is accurate and timely and makes it easier to accomplish many tasks and help speed up other Homeless Shelter processes. To complete such tasks manually required much more time, and the new computers have therefore increased employee efficiency. Having better computers that can store large amounts of data helps keep track of Shelter files, documents, schedules, and deadlines. It is also convenient, inexpensive, and saves space. Computers also allow the Homeless Shelter to organize all of its information in a very accessible manner. A new updated computer has the ability to allow the Homeless Shelter to organize its files efficiently, leading to better time management and greater productivity.

Construction

The new construction added 600sq. ft. including three new offices, a reception area, and a small bathroom. Adding this space increased the comfort and enjoyment of the Homeless Shelter main cabin. The renovated Homeless Shelter now functions better for the residents and employees, and the added space has allowed staff to all be together while using old office spaces as a conference/meeting room and a classroom/training room for clients and children. During the renovation, the homeless shelter was able to upgrade our security camera system, get new appliances, new furniture, and new heating and cooling system HVAC (Central Air). During new construction, the contractor installed energy efficient windows and insulation, which can help decrease energy costs. The renovation was able to make Shelter operations more efficient, improve organization, and accommodate future business needs.
