What We Do

Our Mission:

- ❖ Support complex or extended Search & Rescue (SAR) missions in Washington State
- ❖ Recommend search planning strategies and tactics
- ❖ Provide technical search mapping services
- ❖ Apply modern search theory to extended SAR incidents

Since 2018 we have supported:

- ❖ Over 100 search missions
- ❖ In counties throughout WA State
- ❖ In all three WA State National Parks

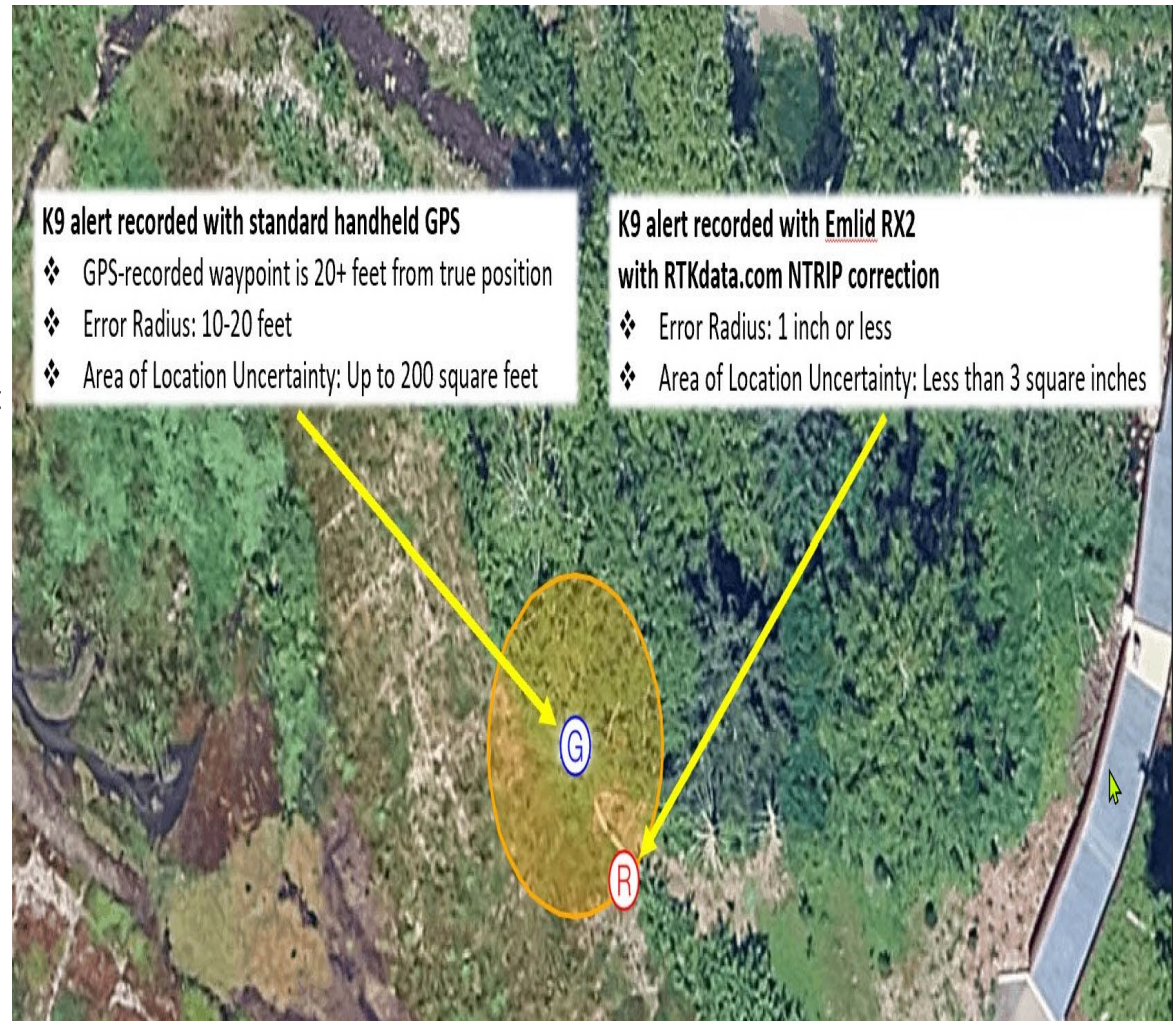

Using EMLID Reach RX2

Search teams face a fundamental problem: they need to return to exact locations in featureless terrain, often weeks or months after a specific location has been marked.

The problem is that typical handheld GPS units used by most SAR teams have an error radius that is many feet off. Should the flag or marker be removed, the search location expands exponentially.

The Reach RX2 solves that problem by using a wide array of satellites, reducing that error to centimeters.

The position itself is the marker, repeatable to within inches, months or years later, regardless of what the surface looks like when a followup team arrives.

Emlid Reach RX2 GNSS Unit

While our missions are generally searching for just one person, we know the impact goes far beyond to family & friends. We volunteer to serve throughout Washington State so that “Others May Live”.

We are grateful to the Tulalip Cares Charitable Contributions for this donation of an Emlid Reach Rx2 GNSS Unit. This will greatly enhance our ability to serve the community and bring home the lost and the missing.
